Aaron Brooks

Aaron Brooks comes to us after a six year professional baseball career with the Seattle Mariners.

Brooks, who hails from Mountlake Terrace, Washington played in college at Gonzaga and the Edmonds Community College. Brooks was drafted in the 26th round but he quickly progressed through the Mariners organization reaching AA. Brooks moved up the Seattle chain as a reliever with a mid-90's fastball and finished his tenure with the Mariners with a career earned run average under 4.00.

In his post minor league career, Brooks and his family relocated to Columbia County. He has built his clientele as a pitching coach through his Brooks Velo Academy at The Facility, located in Saugerties, NY. Additionally, Brooks is in his third year as a head coach for the Northeast Pride, an East Coast based travel baseball program.

Aaron lives in Germantown with his wife Emma and two children, Eva and Mason.
